

The Food Hub provides customers with access to locally produced food from farms and ranches throughout Surprise Valley and Modoc County. When you choose to buy from the Hub, you can be assured you are receiving food that is locally grown using sustainable practices that are good for the soil, good for you, and good for our community.

What to Expect

Confidence, safety, and traceability: Farmers who choose to be part of the Hub have access to education and the Hub's recommended food safety guidelines for Good Agricultural Practices. Additionally, all farms who take part in the Hub are registered through Modoc County's "Approved Source" Program.

Quality and consistency: All Hub products are prepared with care and pride by folks who are putting their reputation on the line. The Hub label represents consistent quality.

Integrity: The Hub wants you to know what you are buying and eating. Please ask us anything you would like to know about the Hub's practices and those of member producers. The beauty of our small community is that you know the farmer growing your food.
